T OLD GREENBACK CASE

I am still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec. 17, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that
JACOB MAYER
leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in gue, and it was understood the terms re Coin. Since the date above stated, I received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the Y OF PARIS STORE!
g less than two-fifths of the real amount Mayer was to pay. He had secured the lding at very advantageous rates, and he was now to comply with his conract, and pay in Coin, would be getting he best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings
as the one referred to above.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The Eastern line is down. We have received no Eastern news.

An Important Law Case.

A case was decided by Judge Pratt, this morning, of unusual interest and importance in which a boy fraudulently obtained a power of attorney from his mother, under which he disposed of her entire property, valued at $75,000, for a mere fraction of its value. The action was brought by Tha. DeSanchez, to set aside the power of attorney to her son Pedro, under which he made a deed of conveyance of the San Pedro Ranchez, in San Mateo county, to Owen McMahon and others. The property was bringing in the mother a rental of $5,000 per annum, and the lessees were receiving $12,000 by sub-letting it. The instrument of conveyance was so drawn up and worded that the mother received no benefit from the sale, and the whole sum to be paid for the ranch only amounted to some $9,000, of which $2,000 had been paid to Pedro, who had appropriated it to his own use. It seems that Pedro had borrowed money of McMahon, and having become deeply in debt, was induced to inveigle his mother into giving him a power of attorney, under which he sold the ranch for but a trifling proportion of its real value, and relieved his pecuniary necessities at the expense of depriving his mother of house and home. Judge Pratt rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff, Mrs. Sanchez, setting aside the power of attorney, thereby rendering the deed null and void, and restoring to plaintiff her property.

Rumors of Removals from Office.

It is rumored on the streets to-day that Postmaster Perkins is to be superseded, and that his successor is now in San Francisco with his commission in his pocket.

There are rumors also of the intended removal of other federal officers, but are hardly worth relating without more reliable authority.

Margaret E. Denny has commenced suit in the Fifteenth District Court against Mrs. S. J. DeWolf, to recover $20,000 damages. She alleges for cause of action that she, the plaintiff, was married to and living happily with Gideon J. Denny, but the defendant, by her conversation and acts, alienated the affections of her husband from her, which led to their separation and divorce, all of which has caused her much pain and suffering; she therefore claims damages as aforesaid.

California at the World's Fair.

The Chairman of the World's Fair Committee has received a telegram from J. W. Simonton in New York, stating that California would be allowed a given space at the World's Fair at Paris, and articles from California could be shipped to Paris direct. The Chairman of the Committee has telegraphed for from 600 to 800 square feet for California. It is understood that the contributions of the State Agricultural Society will require 300 square feet for exhibitions.

The Veterans of the Mexican War.

The veterans of the Mexican war met last evening and enrolled some forty names on their list of members, and adopted resolutions instructing the officers of the association to issue certificates appropriately designed and neatly engraved for framing with the certificates of service attached to members of the corps since 1846. The election of officers was postponed until September 11th next.

Mining Matters.

The yield of the Pine Tree, Josephine and Princeton mines of the Mariposa Company's estate for twenty-four days in July, is said to be $28,000, the ore extracted averaging from $9 to $12 per ton.

The shaft in the Crown Point mine at Gold Hill, Nevada, 430 feet deep, has recently been timbered, the timbers being set in the new style, are 12 inches square. A new hoisting cage has been put in, and another one is nearly ready for its place. This mine is said to be yielding 100 tons of ore daily.

The first invoice of copper ore, consisting of 9½ tons from the Ne Plus Ultra mine in Mariposa county, has arrived at Stockton. There are 60 tons at the mine ready for shipment. The ore is said to assay 40 per cent.

The yield of the Yellow Jacket mine for July, was 62 tons of first class, and 8286 tons of second class ore, and the amount was 6155 tons, netting $231,000. The total product of the Hale & Norcross mine for the past month, was 2,7–9 tons of ore, valued at $141,000. This mine has declared a dividend of $25 per foot for July. There is some improvement in the Empire Mill, and the production of this mine will probably be materially increased in future. During the past week 900 tons of ore have been taken from the Savage mine, and 766 tons shipped.

The investigation of the charge of assault with deadly weapons, preferred by E. H. Taylor against Horace Hawes, was dismissed by Judge Rix this morning.

Large Deposits at the Branch Mint.

Yesterday 20,000 ounces of gold, valued at $40,000, were deposited in the United States Branch Mint of this city, and 10,000 ounces, valued at $200,000, were deposited to-day. Yesterday's amount was the largest ever received at the mint in a single day.

Sentenced for Libel.

J. Walter Walsh of the Sunday Varieties, was to-day sentenced by Judge Cowles to six months' imprisonment in the county jail for publishing a libel reflecting on the character of Mr. Sheldon, of Sheldon & Lloyd's dancing academy.

Legal Tenders—Commercial Matters.

No later gold quotations. Brokers quote legal tenders at 71¾ buying, and 72¾ selling.

While there have been but few business transactions from private hands during the week, jobbing has been fairly active.

There is some uncertainty in commercial circles touching the extent of the changes made in the tariff, and the arrival of a copy of the amended bill is anxiously awaited. Meanwhile trade from first hands moves slowly, and even among jobbers there is little disposition to buy beyond present actual wants.

Private telegrams received here two days since, quote market dull in New York, especially in the line of dry goods. Cotton goods were lower.

The Markets.

Flour—Little inquiry for export at $5 25 ℔ 196 lbs free on board. Sales to trade continue at the old figures.

The Coming Platform.

The New York Independent has early intelligence concerning the new party, which is very interesting:

Our readers will now be glad to know that we have been favored in advance with a copy, in manuscript, of the proposed platform of the new party. The manuscript is somewhat badly spelled in some parts, and bears marks of several different handwritings. The following resolution, or plank, was prepared, it seems, by the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, United States Senator for Georgia:

Resolved, That it is now a fitting time to throw off the cloak, and to proclaim to the world that His Excellency, Andrew Johnson, is no longer connected with the Union Party; that we are authorized to say, in his behalf, that he never was at heart a Republican, and never felt at home in the Republican party; that he does not believe in the principles of that party; that he has signalized his administration by an attempt to destroy that party; and that, in view of the fact that the Hon. Jefferson Davis will not accept a renomination, Mr. Andrew Johnson is our next and our unanimous choice for the Presidency of the United and Confederate States.

The second resolution is as follows—and, if we do not misjudge, is in the handwriting of the distinguished naval commander, Raphael Semmes:

Resolved, That the American Republic, until further notice, shall be regarded as one country; that, meanwhile, Northern capital shall be invited to pay Southern debts, Northern Copperheads to link political fortunes with Southern rebels, Federal arms and ammunition to restock Southern fortresses; and that, at the right moment thereafter, the Southern States shall make one more, and final, and victorious attempt to regain their independence.

The following is a copy, not of a formal resolution, but of what appears to be a rough draft of memoranda for the use of the managing members of the convention. The paper is signed A J, and looks like the initials of Old Hickory in the handwriting of John Tyler:

MY POLICY.

My Policy is the Constitution. Therefore, what is not My Policy shall be deemed not constitutional. My Policy consists, first, in the reelection of the present able, patriotic, etc., etc. My Policy consists, second, in grinding the Negro into fine dust, and using him for the cement of a White Man's Government. My Policy consists, third, in making treason respectable and loyalty odious. My Policy consists, fourth, in destroying the party which elected me, in putting myself at the head of the Confederate party instead, and in exercising the vacated functions of the late President, Jefferson Davis.

Whereupon is affixed, etc.

N. B.—For further particulars, consult Mr. Thomas Florence, or Mrs. Cobb.

If the above facts do not produce a cheerful view of the present state of public affairs, then our readers must wait till the present hot weather shall give place to a more salubrious condition of atmosphere at Washington. Lest, however, the dog star should rage equally in Philadelphia on the 14th of August, we suggest to the authorities of that city to prepare in advance for the possible need of lodging the convention in the cool quarters of the stone house at Moyamensing.

TALK OF SENATOR TRUMBULL.—In a late debate in the United States Senate, Trumbull says:

Mr. Trumbull wished to know if the Senator from Indiana was in favor of placing the control of the States lately in rebellion in the hands of rebels? Is the Vice President of the late Confederacy to come here as a Senator? Is his colleague, Herschel V. Johnson, fresh from the rebel Congress, to come here as a Senator to legislate for the loyal people of this country? Let the Senator from Indiana shake off his party shackles and arise to the Union sentiment of the country. Let him say to the people of the South, you rebels who brought on this war, who occasioned this desolation and woe throughout the land, must stand back and let the loyal men of the country rule the country. Let him unite with us in demanding that loyal men shall control the country, and I will unite with the Senator from Indiana in welcoming their representatives to seats here and the passage of laws recognizing these States as in friendly relation to the Government. If the Senator wants this harmony restored; if he wants friendly intercourse among the inhabitants of the late rebel States, I tell him he cannot have it until there is a Union of sentiment in the South that will protect the Union men in the South. He cannot have it when a man for personal safety, in traveling through late rebel districts, has to conceal his love of the Union. He cannot have it when the national flag cannot be borne in safety through the streets of Mobile. He cannot have it when loyal men and women are not permitted to go and scatter flowers upon the graves of the heroes who fell to maintain the Union. The loyal men of the country and the Union men of this nation have suffered too much and too long to have affiliation and friendship with the traitors who brought ruin upon the country, and still persist in oppressing loyal men.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 13, 1866

Kentucky

The rebel Democratic ticket has succeeded in Kentucky by 30,000 to 40,000 majority. In 1864, out of a total vote of 92,387, McClellan's majority was 36 515 The election in 1865 took place shortly after the collapse of the rebellious Confederacy, and consequently at a time most disheartening to the Democracy. The result was a small Union majority out of a total poll of 84,267 votes In the election just held the contest was between the returned rebels and their sympathizers on the one side, and various elements of opposition—the chief of which were the radical Unionists—on the other Duvall, the rebels' candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was himself a rebel and owes his nomination and election to this fact. His opponent, Gen. Hobson, is a man who had served in the Union army during the war, and who, on this account, was particularly obnoxious to the returned rebels and their political friends. The result, as compared with that of last year, shows what "my policy" has accomplished in "loyal" Kentucky.

The "conservatives," or Johnson men of Kentucky, are chargeable with the defeat of the Union party in this election. As their admiration for the Johnsonian policy was unbounded, so their animosity toward the radicals was almost implacable in its bitterness They fought the radicals—the only reliable Union men of the State—with far more vindictiveness than they did the rebels whom they professed to be so anxious to defeat. Johnson's "policy," urged the admirers of the rose-water plan, was sure to capture Kentucky. It was so wise, so just, so magnanimous, so statesmanlike, that the returned prodigals who went out with Breckinridge and Buckner to search for their rights, would not, could not oppose it. The radicals, authors of all mischief, were the only persons in the way of the speedy advent of a political millennium Accordingly radicalism must be crushed that "my policy" might have the field An immense majority of the people of Kentucky were with the President in sympathy and sentiment, in heart and soul, therefore the "radical obstructionists" must stand out of the way!

At last the radical Unionists, though far more numerous than the Johnson men, wishing if possible to prevent the election of the rebel ticket, magnanimously consented to withdraw their candidates from the field, provided the "conservatives" would do the same, and nominate others whom they were to support in concert. This arrangement was acceded to, the candidates of both wings were withdrawn, and General Hobson nominated for the principal office which was being contested. From the majority which his opponent receives it is very evident either that Johnson has no strength in Kentucky, or that the admirers of his "policy," wishing to do something which would still further "conciliate" the Confederates, refused to vote for the man whom they had promised to support, and voted for the rebel candidate instead. In 1864 the Democrats had no larger majority over the radicals alone than the rebels now have over the "conservatives" and the radicals combined The fact raises a doubt whether the "my policy" men did not, after all, vote in a body with the rebels.

Last year the Union men carried Kentucky; this year they are beaten by a majority as large perhaps as their own vote. The cause of this change does not lie far below the surface. A moment's reflection will make it patent to anybody. Last year the rebellion was felt to be an odious thing The Democratic party by reason of its complicity with it was odious also. Thousands of men who had theretofore acted with that party, refused to vote with it a year ago on account of the disgrace which they felt would follow such an act. The consequence was that when the elections were held in 1865, the Democrats lost votes beyond all precedent. The people heard the words that Andrew Johnson thundered in the ears of traitors, announcing that treason was to be punished and made odious, that leading traitors were to be impoverished, degraded and excluded from participation in the Government, that loyal men alone should control the destinies of the country. They believed these solemnly given and often repeated utterances, and had no thought but that whatever was connected with the rebellion would forever be regarded by the people of the United States with the utmost detestation. It was universally felt that the Democratic party was implicated in the great crime, and as few cared to share its ignominy, few would associate with it. Last year it was supposed that the President stood with the Union party, and the rebels were beaten in Kentucky; this year the rebels were encouraged by the countenance he gave them, and the Union party was defeated by an overwhelming vote. Instead of making treason odious he had rewarded it, instead of degrading traitors he had honored them. A year ago treason was felt to be a crime and traitors dared not lift their heads; now, treason is regarded as a virtue, and to have been a traitor is a passport to places of honor and power.

Such are the results of the course Mr. Johnson has taken Is there any wonder that the party which carried the country triumphantly through the war opposes a "policy" which is fraught with consequences like these?

Trade from the Sandwich Islands.—The amendatory tariff law lately enacted by Congress is understood to contain a provision in reference to the trade of the Sandwich Islands with the United States which will prove of considerable importance to those trading from those Islands to the ports of the Pacific States. By the law of 1864, all vessels entering American from foreign ports are required to pay a duty of 30 cents per ton every time they enter at a custom house. An exception to this law permits vessels trading from Mexico, the West Indies, and the British Possessions to enter ports of the United States as often as they choose by paying this tonnage tax once a year. On solicitation of Mr. McRuer of California, the Congressional Committee, which prepared the amendatory tariff act agreed also to give vessels engaged in the trade with the Sandwich Islands the benefit of this partial exemption from tonnage duties It is supposed that this proposition as agreed upon by the Committee, was sustained when the bill came to its final passage If so, it will relieve vessels employed in the trade from the Sandwich Islands to San Francisco and Portland of a very considerable burden As our Honolulu packets make three or four trips a year, it may readily be seen that they will gain very material advantages by this change

The Richmond (Va) Times desires President Johnson to recall John C Breckinridge from exile, for the alleged reason that "there is no one whose influence for good would be greater than his in these troubled times" It concludes thus "In John C Breckinridge the President would find a fast friend and firm supporter in the policy he is pursuing for the restoration of the country." This last remark is exceedingly complimentary to the President, and furnishes a very instructive commentary on his "policy" What sort of policy is it of which the arch traitor Breckinridge would be a "firm supporter?" Is it probable that it would be one which loyal men could approve?

New York, Aug. 9—Advices from Frankfort of the 26th, state that the State and other [illegible] bodies of that city had [illegible] in order to draw up a petition which M D Rothschild was instructed to present to the King of Prussia The Prussian Com[illegible] however, [illegible] the [illegible] permission Burgomast Fellner has hanged himself out of despair in consequence of the manner in which the Prussians have had drawn up a list of the members of the Senate and other municipal authorities, together with a statement of their movable property All the bankers have held a meeting at which it was declared that if violence of that kind was resorted to they would suspend payment immediately The amount of the two contributions levied by the Prussians is 25,000'000 florins. Valuables and plate have been removed to a heavy extent There has been a run on the banks which the bank officers encouraged The principal newspapers have been suppressed The troops are quartered on residents Mr Murphy and the American Consul are issuing proclamation papers exempting Americans from disturbance. The sullen growth of the American population is astonishing

Berlin, July 26.—The official gazette to-day justify the course pursued by Prussia in levying a war contribution of 25 000,000 florins upon the residents of Frankfort, on the following accounts; The systematic hostility shown towards Prussia by the government of Frankfort, the toleration by the latter of articles in the Frankfort press insulting to Prussia, the violation of treaties, the damage done to Prussian property, and Frankfort's participation in the war carried on by the Austrians against Prussia.

London, Aug. 3.—The relations between the Governments of Austria and Italy are assuming a more threatening attitude.

Liverpool, Aug 9 —The ship De [illegible], from Bristol for the United States has been burned at sea The passengers and crew were saved and brought to this port by the ship Conqueror from Mobile

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

News from Arizona and New Mexico.

San Francisco, Aug 12.—Governor McCormick of Arizona was appointed in April and did not receive his commission until the 8th of July On the 9th at noon in presence of several citizens, the Governor took the oath of office before Chief Justice Turner

Consul Godoy yesterday received a communication from President Juarez, under date of July 7th, at Chihuahua, from which place troops were leaving that day for El Parral

The last dates from the city of Durango indicate its probable immediate evacuation by the French. They were endeavoring to get up a Mexican force to garrison the place after their departure, but it was generally thought they would not be successful so much so that many of the persons who have committed themselves with the French had, in anticipation of trouble, started for the City of Mexico, where they consider they will be safe for the present It is not probable that either he or Senor Ortega will return to Mexico now, as their plans are repudiated by the large majority of the people The Liberal Government will have nothing to do with Santa Anna, as its acceptance of his proffered services would injure the national cause in the opinion of its strongest supporters The Chimehuevis Indians, the meanest tribe in the southern portion of our national domain Apaches excepted, are committing numerous murders in San Bernardino county, and in parts of Arizona above Williams Fork. They killed three soldiers at Camp Cady, on the Mojave road a few days since, and wounded others. Dr Smith was shot in his bed in San Gorgonio pass and badly hurt.

The California Committee for the National loan subscription to assist in payment of the national debt of Italy, amounts now to $14,523. The money is to be converted into two bars and sent to Italy by the next steamer

Geo. Rains late Co. B, 7th California Volunteers, was fatally stabbed in a saloon on Pacific street early this morning

Washington Wright, formerly an editor in this city, and at the East died last Friday evening in the City Hospital

ATLANTIC CABLE. ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL 29 First street, have received no dispatch yet from Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, but it is presumed she is interested to know that they continue to furnish the most BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPHS, in this section of the United States. Steamship Matters.—On Saturday last the steamship runners formerly employed in this city by the rival companies were paid off and discharged, in consequence of the [illegible] they have been to the community, and from the fact that the companies could see no particular benefit from that branch of service. This, together with the announcement that the Montana, of the Anchor Line would not sail until Wednesday, gave rise to the rumor that a compromise had been effected, and that she would be hauled off, and the people of Oregon be again left to the "tender mercies" of the monopolists. The report was very industriously circulated, but those who may have spent breath in giving their ecstatic feelings vent, will regret to know that their ecstasy was useless, and, on the other hand, those who experienced anxiety for fear that there was some truth in the statements, may delight in the fact that there was no foundation for the stories. The Montana is still on the berth as an opposition ship, and that she will continue as such is the determination of her owners, whom, as we have said before never pull their anchor up when it is once planted in a trade. The steamship Idaho, the sister ship of the Montana, will be here by the middle of December to take her place in the line, and as she is superior to the [illegible] in every way, will be more formidable as a rival for the passenger traffic than is the Montana now, yet it cannot be said but that the latter has made things lively, even in this respect against the old lines. She is now on her [illegible] trip to Portland, and in that time has carried over 3,000 passengers, and nearly 10,000 tons of freight to and from this port. Up to the present time the earnings of the Montana have more than equaled the expectations of her owners, and as the records will show she has never lost except upon one voyage. With these figures before them, the proprietors of the Anchor Line have no reason to sell out, or draw off, at the very close of the dullest part of the season, but on the contrary, have they not every encouragement for the future, at a time when the [illegible] trade is about to commence? With an immense grain crop just harvesting, and a dependence upon California for a market, for both grain and fruit, our farmers have much to expect of the Anchor Line. At the prices which have heretofore ruled for freight, the grain and fruit of Oregon has brought the producer scarcely a recompense for their services in harvesting it, but at the rates of transportation which have been established by the Anchor Line, this class of our community are placed entirely above the influences exacted by speculators, and if they chose to do so, can carry every kernel of their products to San Francisco and enter the market there on almost an equal footing with the California farmer. Our merchants, and those of the great Columbia river basin, are also enabled, by the prices paid for freight, to compete with those merchants of California who have exhibited their preferences for supplying the mining regions via the route from Chico, and our local industries, and the immense interests at stake on the various lines of travel inland from Portland, have all been benefitted through this agency, to a very great extent. There is still another matter to be considered, which is of vital importance to our State, and one most likely to be undervalued, that is the increase of population stimulated by cheap fares. It does not require any great amount of cyphering to be informed of the advantages likely to accrue to Oregon from this source. During the short time cheap fares have been afforded, our State has gained no little in its population of industrious citizens. In case the present rates continue it will result much more greatly to our advantage the ensuing year, and taking all these points into calculation, one can see what opposition has done for the State, and realize that it would be a short sighted policy for the company which made this beginning to pull up and leave us before deriving any of the benefits to result from the same. A policy which it is unfair to [illegible] the owners of the Anchor Line of entertaining.

On the Road.—For the size of it Portland can turn out more fine horses, which in any country would be considered fast, [illegible] twisters, than most places. The showers of Friday, and the cool atmosphere of Saturday evening, called out a veritable [illegible] for a ride over the Portland and Milwaukie road, to the White House. Not being the fortunate [illegible] of a trotter, but still desiring an appreciation of the pleasure afforded by a ride, we were invited to a seat alongside of our friend from the Bay, Mr. John Mason, who drives a pacer not to be sneezed at, and started for the Fulton House, at 6 o'clock P. M., Saturday evening. The end of the road nearest to Portland was found to be somewhat dusty, but as we neared the Fulton House, water was seen standing in pools along our route, and arriving at our destination, Mr. Woodward informed us, and the appearance of the surroundings attested, that there had been a heavy shower in that quarter but a few moments before, and that from there out we should possibly not encounter any dust. After waiting a short time, Mr. S. B. Parrish, accompanied by Capt. Conner of the Oriflamme; Mr. [illegible] Davis and Capt. Flavel; Mr. R. B. Knapp, and H. G. Coulson; Capt. Crawford, Mr. E. D. Backenstos, and others arrived, and together we proceeded to the road's end. After passing the Fulton House about three-fourths of a mile, we were entirely out of the section visited by rain, yet, nevertheless but little dust was found to the White House. After an hour spent with mine host Wilbur, the party which [illegible] while there, to the number of about twelve carriages, started for home, [illegible] on the way gents and ladies on horseback, all of whom make these excursions frequently, and no doubt feel as we do, that it is a most pleasant drive. The company deserve great credit for their manner of keeping the road in such excellent condition. It is smoother and more [illegible] for the [illegible] distance than are the McAdamized streets of this city.

Passengers for San Francisco.—The following passengers left for San Francisco by the steamer Oriflamme yesterday: J C Wade, Mrs C J Lee, Mrs I Rodgers, D Falk, [illegible], Mrs D Logan, Mrs C Levy, J Oppenheimer, [illegible] Mitchell, J B Miles, Miss Dell Dunbar, D Simon, wife and son, M Meerholtz, H B Springer, W Mullen, W W Rose, B B Acker, Mrs Hough, Mrs Mary Lyons, John White, C M Gage, F DeWitt and son, Thos Pope, J McHenry, Chas [illegible] and wife, Mrs John Harrison, [illegible], B Patrick, D W Scriever, A L Rothchild, [illegible] Wylie, D W Ross, Wm Gilford, J R McIntosh, Mrs E B Sinnot, Mrs S B Barber, Joseph Elliott, Colonel [illegible], Mrs Waldo, Mrs Prag and child, George McCully, J W [illegible], Peter Duncan, Miss J Walker, W B King, [illegible], E C Young, James Mullan, O C Pollard, J S Smith, Mrs George Hearst, Dr Teabrook, Mrs Meyers, [illegible] Holland, W A Clark, John Cares, E A Seabury, A Pollock, C Storm and wife, Mrs H Boyle, J K Tribble, F Fisk, Phil Peck, [illegible] Wylie, H T D[illegible], I Phillips, Miss Rosetha Hills, Mrs R E Beatty, [illegible], Mrs J Lorys, G M Kurtz, Geo R Ingalls, M S [illegible] and wife, Miss Waldo, B Jacobs, J A Mil[illegible], Mrs M Gibson and 2 children, Joseph Levi, S Ackerman, I Jacobs, Master Simon, J Conner, B Fox, Geo Lanoque, Master Smith, Miss Austin, T H Burnham, H K Hunsaker and wife, Oliver C Gage, H H White, B Brown, G B Shattuck, D C[illegible], Mrs H Cowan, E R Colbie, C[illegible], L Hirsch, G N Chapman, John Martin, Frank [illegible], and 50 others.

On [illegible] Stage Line.—We learn there is an opposition about to be placed on the road from Umatilla to Boise City. It appears that, since Thomas & Co. and Ruckel & Co. have sold out to Haley & Greathouse, the last named parties, in their greed for gain, have reduced the line from a daily to a tri-weekly, and are feeding their [illegible] stock on grass alone, consuming four days from Umatilla to Boise City—overhauling their mud wagons with [illegible] and freight, greatly to the [illegible] of [illegible], and damage of the route. Such a course could not but induce opposition, and we learn steps are being taken to place a substantial line on the road that will make the time from Umatilla to Boise City in three days. We also learn that the O. S. N. Company, whose interests have been [illegible] by the management of Haley & Greathouse, will render every possible aid to the new line. Good facilities, quick time, and [illegible] is the order of the day, and it is important to the stage line from Umatilla to Boise, as on every [illegible] from Portland to San Francisco. The growing importance of the trade [illegible] and both, and must have it.

Mad. [illegible] D'Orsay.—We are [illegible] to [illegible] that the talented [illegible] artiste, Mad. D'Orsay, has paid Portland a visit. After having positively electrified audiences in all the most notable cities of Europe and the United States, she does not regard it as stepping down to visit a city of the proportions of this, as is too often the case with [illegible] artistes and although her professional [illegible] is more from a desire to see the country than from [illegible] motives, we insist that she shall let her sweet voice be heard in public while here. The fame of Mad. D'Orsay is equal to that of the most deserving of her class of performers, and the success which has hitherto crowned her efforts, tells us what a musical treat may be [illegible] by our citizens if she will but consent to give an [illegible] in Portland. Kindness and liberality are among the [illegible] traits of character which this lady [illegible], and which rendered her engagement in San Francisco [illegible] successful. The Mad. is stopping at Arrigoni's, and we trust our musical friends will render her stay in our city agreeable.

Treasure Shipment.—The shipments of treasure, by the steamship Oriflamme yesterday, were very light. The amount of [illegible] appearing upon the manifest, is given at $151,000, in addition to which $100,000 is reported to have gone forward in private hands. One party had about 300 lbs of dust. The following were shippers:

Wells, Fargo & Co	$60,000
Ladd & Tilton	50,000
Goldsmith Bros	35,000
Other parties	100,000
Total	$250,000

River Improvements.—The crane and shovel of the new dredger was placed in position on Saturday last, and it is now hoped that the machinery will be ready for operation this week. The pilots of the steamers Oriflamme and Montana, in sounding the channel at the mouth of the Willamette, have found that but 13½ feet of water can be obtained in a certain place, and Superintendent Walker is very anxious to get at work to deepen the locality prior to the arrival of the next ship, as the river is falling rapidly. The snag-puller will be put to work this week, removing snags at the mouth of the river.

Examined and Discharged.—Mr. Smith Fullmer, who was arrested in this city about the 12th day of July last, on a charge of forgery, and taken to Grant county for examination, has been honorably acquitted. We learn that the evidence adduced on the examination fully exonerated Mr. Fullmer from the charge. He has been put to considerable delay and expense on account of the matter, and the action should be a warning to parties [illegible] proceedings of this character without justification. Mr. Fullmer arrived in this city on Saturday, en route for California.

Fire Clay.—We were shown specimens of fire clay on Saturday last, which were obtained in the vicinity of Vancouver. One who has experience on this subject, and who is competent to advance an opinion relative to the material, says that our Vancouver friends may congratulate themselves on this last discovery, as by it they have most assuredly the right kind of materials to put a stop to the future importation of fire brick. We are glad to record this further evidence of the value of our neighbors' resources.

Book Binding.—The book bindery of Wm. Seibert & Co., in this city, is now turning out work of a character equal to the best binderies of "the States." We were shown on Saturday last two samples of gilt edged, embossed work, which were really fine. People are invited to call and inspect the work, for their own satisfaction.

The Fidelity Telegraphed.—Such was the report of a certain wag of this city, on the streets last Saturday. Parties interested hastened to the telegraph office to learn the hour they might expect to see the fine little craft at her dock, and were somewhat chagrined to read on the bulletin board that she was at Olympia with a pleasure excursion from Victoria. We are informed, however, that the Fidelity would leave Victoria to-day for Portland.

Condolatory.—James B. Bradford, son of Mr. A. G. Bradford of this city, who is now absent to Owyhee, was followed to the grave yesterday by a number of sympathizing friends of the family. James was a bright lad of seventeen years, and his death will be deeply mourned by the bereaved father. We feel a sympathy for Mr. B. in this distress, which must follow his receipt of the sad intelligence.

Repaired.—The steamer Cascade was placed alongside the O. S. N. Company's dock on Saturday evening, and leaves again in her regular trips to the Cascades this morning.

Special Meeting.—There will be a special meeting of the Pioneer Base Ball Club this evening. A full attendance is required.

FROM MONTANA.

We clip the following from the Helena Republican of July 24th:

UNCLE BEN'S GULCH.

A letter from this gulch says: This gulch is distant from Helena, by trail, about twenty miles; by wagon road, twenty-five miles. Some of the claims in this little gulch have proved very rich—those thus far that have proved richest, are perhaps from No. 15 to 20 above discovery. The fortunate owners of the most of these claims are some of our old fellow-townsmen, and a worthier set of men, fortune has seldom ever favored with her smiles. Capt. Flurman, Dr. Spiers, Messrs. Robinson, Boyles and Dunbar are among some of the fortunate ones, and to see their daily "clean ups" would excite anew the ambition of any unlucky prospector. The gulch is without water, the dirt has to be hauled about a mile, the stripping from one to three feet, pay streak from twenty-five to thirty-five feet. The gold is very rough, full of quartz, shows no sign of wash, exhibits many curious specimens, has furnished nuggets worth as high as $68. There is no bed rock yet discovered, and in most respects this gulch is a puzzle to all theorists. Faith Hope and Charity gulches in this vicinity give promise of being remunerative.

VIRGINIA CITY NEWS.

John Howe's train of thirteen heavy wagons arrived on Friday. Mr. John Creighton left here recently with a number of laborers, to commence putting up poles for the telegraph to Salt Lake. The Excelsior Mining Co.'s machinery, for their mill in Summit, arrived last Saturday. Their building is a fine structure, and ready for the reception of its iron works. On W[illegible] last a train of fifteen mules arrived with goods for Pfouts & Russell. On Saturday a train of twelve six teams arrived with goods for the same firm. On Friday, Farmer's train of six wagons laden with Merchandise from Fort Benton, arrived. Grasshoppers have invaded the ranches in the vicinity. The "Vigilantes" have written a "piece" and had it printed and posted about the streets—a warning to evil doers. The performances of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne at the People's Theater, are very highly spoken of. The Virginia Water Ditch Company will bring a large additional supply of water, which will enable the workers of claims to employ double gangs of hands each twenty-four hours. Week before last M[illegible] & Co., employed fourteen hands, and cleaned up $1,870. The same week Chihls & Co., with three hands took out $600. Myers & Baker, with four hands took out from $500 to $600. Day & Co., with seven hands cleaned up $900. In Nevada District not over one hundred and fifty men are employed. Wages are from five to eight dollars per day. From the foot of Alder gulch a bed rock flume is being rapidly put down. Professor [illegible]dale's host of friends will be rejoiced to know that he was in a fair way for recovery. On the 17t inst., a train of twelve emigrant wagons arrived, conducted by Captain Orville Royce, of Wisconsin. Three hundred more wagons are reported to be in the immediate rear of these.

The following items are from the Virginia City Post of the 28th ult:

ELK CREEK MINES.

A letter from Deer Lodge, July 24th, says: "Elk Creek has depreciated somewhat in the estimation of a few lately, but chiefly on account of the failure of water. Bear Gulch presents quite an animated appearance, and a large amount of work is being done in development of that place. Henderson and Harvey gulches are proving very good, and quite recently some new discoveries have been made in the vicinity of the [illegible] creek. It is said there are now one thousand men at the new diggings. They are reported to pay well, and are very shallow, being only from two to three feet to the bed-rock.

SILVER BOW, [illegible] CITY AND ORO FINO.

These are all better camps than ever before, and a large number of men are being employed at those places. There is in course of construction at the former place two ditches for the purpose of taking water from the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains to the western, one of which is from Boulder and the other from Divide creek, a feat never before attempted, and one which will prove a perfect success, and accomplished not through the experience of California "49-ers self-raise" or Coloradans and regular "tender-feet."

A GOOD STRIKE.

Mr. Hall, on Sunday last, took out of his bed rock flume, on No. 11 above discovery, a nugget weighing $400 95. Work away, miners, there are plenty more of the same sort, waiting to be turned up by the lucky finders.

PASSENGER LINE FROM BOISE TO VIRGINIA.

Dr. Arnold arrived in town this week, from Boise City, with a passenger train. The Doctor leaves for Helena today, and will perhaps go to Fort Benton, when he will return to this place and put on a regular line of passenger wagons between here and the Boise country.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Republican says: Julia Dean is playing to h[illegible] at Virginia City, her performances being attended by those who never visited the theatre before.

There is more litigation now in progress in the Territory than was ever before known.

While Mr. White, a quiet and inoffensive gentleman, the agent of Stafford & Guiwits stage line, was sitting quietly in his chair in the International Hotel on Saturday evening, a cowardly [illegible] was committed upon him by a drunken loafer of the stage-driving persuasion, whose name we did not learn, who knocked him down and kicked him in the most brutal manner.

The Post says:

Prospectors, some time ago, stated that coal and iron could be found on the Madison, but gave no idea of their extent or richness. During the past week, Prof. [illegible] Hauke of this city accompanied by [illegible] Everts, has spent several days in exploring this region. His reports are highly satisfactory. Within a distance of five miles, he found coal, iron, slate, and several quarries of syenite. We have seen [illegible] of the coal and iron. The coal burns freely, has a brilliant fracture, and when subjected to the blow pipe, emits a bituminous odor, similar to that of the coal of Western Pennsylvania.

From Bitter Root we hear the most glowing accounts of the crops, the farmers all unite in saying they never saw better prospects for an abundant harvest in any part of the world. There is estimated to be twelve hundred acres of wheat sown, and a proportionate amount of vegetables and other cereals. The farmers say they are not troubled in the slightest degree with insects of any sort.

We noticed passing through our streets, yesterday afternoon, machinery for John H[illegible]w's 24 stamp mill, at the Summit.

FROM IDAHO.

The Boise Statesman of the 2d inst., has the following:

SAW MILL BURNED—HEAVY LOSS.

About 12 o'clock m. yesterday when the hands were at dinner, a fire broke out in A. H. Robie's saw mill, at the east end of town. The alarm was given at once, but the fire appeared to be all over the building. There were a good many chips and shavings about the planing mill, and everything was as dry and hot as the scorching sun could make it. The fire broke forth in one solid flame all over the mill in less than five minutes from the time it was discovered. No effort could save the mill. The mill office was about the width of a street to the west, and Adolph & Lemp's brewery building was across the street on the north, and a large amount of lumber was piled between the mill and office, and the log yard, full of logs, was on the east. Some two hundred men were on hand in a few moments and worked with all possible diligence to save what property they could. The fire raged with the most terrible fury. The flames rose over one hundred feet, and were so intensely hot that no man could work before it within the distance of this outside property but a moment at a time, but with miraculous efforts they saved the mill office, brewery, saw logs, and a small portion of the lumber. The fire lasted for over an hour. The brewery building was on fire considerable of the time and the front end pretty much burned out. The loss to Mr. Robie was over $40,000.

MINING NEWS.

Mr. J. A. Green, Superintendent of Waddingham & Co.'s mill, is down from Rocky Bar. Mr. Green has kept his mill running the most of the past year with profit to the company. They are working the Confederate Star, which proves to be an excellent mine. We are also glad to learn that our friend Green is one of the lucky men that have made a profitable sale of stock. We saw a telegram to Mr. Green, dated New York, July 19th, which announces a cash sale of Columbia stock to Devens Company of $800,000, his portion sent. We would as soon see John have the money as anybody, except us.

The mercury stood at from 100 to 110 degrees yesterday afternoon, in the shade.

FROM LEWISTON—WARREN'S DIGGINGS.

The Mountaineer of the 10th says:

From merchants who arrived here on Wednesday from Lewiston, to purchase stocks of goods, we learn that there has been quite a brisk trade in that town during the summer. The discovery of rich silver quartz in the vicinity of Warren's diggings has caused considerable excitement in that vicinity. A number of men left Lewiston with Mr. Hurley, assayer, to prospect the lead, and were expected to return in a short time, when correct accounts of the richness and extent of the mines will be made known.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

We clip the subjoined items from the Vancouver Register of the 11th inst:

LUMBERING [illegible] IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. Hexter is finishing his new saw mill, five miles above town, and will have it cutting lumber in about two months. This mill is seventy feet long by twenty-six wide, and will have sufficient power and capacity as we are informed to saw 10,000 feet of lumber per day.

Mr. Abernethy, of Oak Point, as was stated a short time ago in the Register, is able to manufacture at his mill about 3,000,000 feet per annum.

Mr. Love, six miles above this place on the bank of the river, is enlarging and in other respects making important changes in his mills. He is preparing to saw logs 80 feet long.

Provision has been made for the early erection and completion of a substantial bridge across the Washougal.

We hear favorable reports from most parts of the country. Settlements are being extended and new roads, to and through the new mining regions, and to other and more remote parts of the country, are being opened.

THE MINES.

We have no news of importance from the mines this week. The owners of the Morning Star sent a ton of rock, for trial, to San Francisco by the steamer on Wednesday last. The result will be made known as soon as obtained, we suppose. Lawrence & Co. are running their arastra, but with what result we do not know with any certainty.

"STRUCK IT RICH."

Three hundred and thirteen dollars worth of gold was found in this place on Monday last, about thirty feet below the surface. The fact is, you can find gold almost anywhere by going deep enough. We have not been able to learn the name of the finder or the particulars of the affair.

STATE ITEMS.

Samuel Welsher, of Monroe, Benton county, who fell and broke his leg last Monday, died on Thursday, from the effects of the accident.

Milton Howell, a resident of Benton county, a few days since was thrown from a load of hay upon a scythe, receiving a severe wound in the right groin.

Lieut. Col. O'Byrne, with his company of the 14th U. S. Infantry, mounted, has started for Boise via the Canyon City route.

The whole number of pupils in the Dalles Public School is reported by J. D. Robb, at 222; daily average attendance, 169.

Messrs. Bloch, Miller & Co., are turning out several large bills of goods for Blackfoot. Trade at the Dalles has become quite brisk. "Prairie schooners" are leaving daily for the interior, loaded down.

The amount of treasure received at the Dalles office of Wells, Fargo & Co., during the week ending Wednesday, the 8th, is reported by the Mountaineer at $160,000. During that time there was but one through express from Idaho.

Lieut. Bernard, U. S. A., who lately fought the Indians so successfully on Cow Creek, arrived at the Dalles on the 10th. He is ordered home. Lieut. Bernard is held in high respect at Canyon City on account of the punishment he inflicted upon the thieving and murdering redskins.

The notorious Chinaman murderer, Tom Wilson, arrived at the Dalles by the evening train on the 10th. Marshal Keeler got wind of it and arrested the hombre after a severe tussle. Mr. Keeler had his coat entirely torn from his back in the attempt to cage his bird.

On Wednesday evening last, says the Corvallis Gazette, a team, attached to a buggy, driven by Mr. Butler of Harrisburg, while he was passing from their heads to get into the buggy, escaped from the ferry boat, and ran up Water street, smashing the buggy and seriously crippling one of the horses.

N. Hendeys, Arch Radar, Jacob Wigle, Wm. Benham, and others of Linn county, are making preparations to explore the Deschutes valley and the country as far south as Goose Lake, and invite all who may feel an interest in the enterprise to join them. The company will start early in September.

The directors of the Woolen Factory have been busy this week, says the Mountaineer, in perfecting titles to the water right which they purchased from Mr. Penfland, on Mill Creek, and also obtaining permission from the farmers on the Creek to turn the branch of Dog river into that stream, so that the company cannot be held for damages which may arise from the extra quantity of water turned into the Creek. We understand that the Company will advertise for proposals for cutting the ditch and putting up the building the coming week, and the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

A correspondent of the Corvallis Gazette, who has, that paper assures us, "no axe to grind," writes from Yaquina Bay. "There are patches of land around the Bay that will grow grain and vegetables." "Messrs. Case & Bailey, of Newport, are erecting a good and commodious hotel." "Oysterville shows symptoms of prosperity. A new wharf is erected." "There is talk of building two schooners for the coasting trade." "There are at present two principal hotels on the road, the first of which is kept by J. B. Hapt[illegible], and the next by Geo. W. Bethers. A stage runs to each house, and the accommodation is good." The correspondent is of the opinion that the salmon trade of Yaquina will, in time, become important.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Health. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the Stomach, and sustain
The Nerves, the servants of the brain,
The Liver keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day,
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the inner man,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"Hostetter's Bitters," we reply,
Is Health's supreme protection—try!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the surest antidote.

To set at defiance the miasma of [illegible] by soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore-armed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gl[illegible]
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these, though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
Hostetter's Bitters—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, [illegible] and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To health seekers, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle-aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the sick, the thin, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail;
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.

"No, Thank You, John"

BY MISS ROSSETTI

I never said I loved you, John:
Why will you tease me, day by day,
As I wax a weariness to think upon
With always "do" and "pray"?

You know I never loved you, John;
No fault of mine made me your toast:
Why will you haunt me with a face as wan
As shows an hour-old ghost?

I dare say Meg or Moll would take
Pity upon you, if you'd ask:
And pray don't remain single for my sake
Who can't perform that task.

I have no heart?—Perhaps I have not;
But then you're mad to take offence
That I don't give you what I have not got.
Use your own common sense.

Let bygones be bygones,
Don't call me false, who owned not to be true,
I'd rather answer "No" to fifty Johns
Than answer "Yes" to you.

Let's mar our pleasant days no more—
Song birds of passage, days of youth,
Catch at to-day; forget the days before,
I'll wink at your untruth.

Let us strike hands as hearty friends;
No more, no less; and friendship's good.
Only don't keep in view ulterior ends
And points not understood

In open treaty. Rise above
Quibbles and shuffling off and on
Here's friendship if you like; but love—
No, thank you John

A Picture of the United States Senate.

"A Woman in Washington" writes as follows to the Independent

The Senate Chamber is a parallelogram, one hundred and twelve feet long, eighty two feet wide, and thirty six feet high. Its ceiling, like that of the Hall of Representatives, is of cast iron, with deep panels, set with painted glass—the paintings typical of national progress. It is reached by two magnificent marble stair-cases, ascending from the east and west corridors, and is surrounded by a cushioned gallery, capable of holding one thousand persons. Outside of these galleries are exquisitely furnished dressing and reception rooms for the accommodation of ladies, where a rich-complexioned, soft-eyed quadroon woman waits to make them welcome and comfortable. But I seem to be slipping away from stately senators into pretty dressing rooms, which certainly are more inviting this sultry morning.

The Senate as a body cannot compare in varied and aggregate ability with the brilliant and versatile House. The House combines the multiform gifts and experiences of youth, maturity and age. It is fresher from the people, and nearer to the people, than the Senate. The electric currents flowing out from the masses quicken every nerve, and every pulse of this body responds to the wants of the vast people which it represents.

The Senate claims but one positively young man, Gov. Sprague, and nature designed him for a dry-goods clerk. Circumstance and inherited wealth have made him a Senator, after having first made him a Governor, and then a General, before he was thirty. The Senators sit in three semi-circular rows before the Vice President's chair, and nearly all of them are white-haired or bald headed men.

Vice President Foster is considered a good executive officer, but his appearance in the chair is by no means prepossessing, and brings back in most vivid contrast the grand yet winning presence of the lamented Senator Foote, who, with inimitable grace and dignity, presided so long over the deliberations of the Senate. Senator Foster, instead of dressing in black, as a presiding officer always should, has worn, nearly through the entire session, a suit of speckled gray, and, as his complexion and hair incline to the drab, it is not strange that his personal appearance should be so negative, so lacking in positive presence. As each of the genus homo is said to bear a similitude, either slight or marked, to some of the lower order of animals, in Mr Foster's physique the suggestion of the hound is very distinctive. The fall of the hair, the droop of the shoulders, the expression of the features, all indicate it. I do not mention this in disparagement, for the expression of Mr. Foster's is at once refined, intellectual, and benevolent.

Another most marked representative of the dog-type in the Senate is Reverdy Johnson. If ever man looked like a bulldog, it is this ancient Marylander. Stubbed forehead, creased eyes, short nose, prominent mouth, retreating chin, with deep fighting-lines running down each cheek—all make the suggestion and the likeness. When he seizes a subject with such vim that the very blood seems bursting from his face, nothing could be added to make the picture perfect. In utter contrast to the able and learned Marylander is the pure, intellectual face of William Pitt Fessenden, the grand debater of the Senate, one of the truest and greatest men of our time. I am going to praise Mr. Fessenden, for the only reason that I ever praise any man, because I admire him and believe in him. And, as Mr. Fessenden does not like women who write, and as I never expect to take tea at his house, not even the lying Poland papers of Vermont can announce that I praise him from interested motives.

The face of Mr. Fessenden has become familiar to the people through the portrait on the Treasury notes. You see here the outline of the grand head, and of the fine features, but lose all the kindly light of the illuminating smile. The expression of the mouth seems severe, the tone of the man cold, if not inaccessible; yet in excitement his eyes emit rays like sheet-lightning; in conversation they are mild, and his smile most winning. Mr Fessenden is one of those great men whose vital organization can scarcely supply the demands of a dominant brain. Mental toil wears on the fine, nervous frame. Thus the apparent irascibility which Mr. Fessenden sometimes betrays in debate is only the surface irritation of over worn nerves. No one has a kinder heart or tenderer feelings, but, by nature shy, sensitive, and proud, he instinctively sheathes himself in a mail of reserve, from which he comes forth only to the precious few who hold open the sesame to his deeper life and heart.

Other members of the Senate may excel Mr. Fessenden in ornate speech, but he has no equal in parliamentary debate. In intellectual acumen, in far seeing, far reaching statesmanship he has no peer. A wise, incorruptible man, we need not despair of greatness while the Senate of the nation boasts of one such statesman.

I have only time, en passant, for mention of other senators. Here is "Jim Lane," a very lean and uncertain individual. Here is Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, who, with this Congress, retires from public life, carrying back to the privacy of a delightful home the high esteem of all who know him, a man whose private and public record is without blemish, and whose fiery eloquence is only equaled by his generous and kindly heart. Here is Gov. Morgan, with a face so Romanesque and strong one would never suspect that he could give a weak vote, or tremble in the balance before a great question. Here is Cowan, cadaverous and conservative. Here is Charles Sumner, classical as a god on one side of his face, and ugly on the other. Charles Sumner, at once both great and weak, harmonious and angular, philanthropic and selfish; who will live in the hereafter as the eloquent champion of one great idea. Here is Sherman, elegant, proper, and commonplace. Here is Ben. Wade, burly, belligerant, and honest. Here is Henry Wilson, hawed, busy, and comfortable, in physique at least. Here is Howe of Wisconsin, who has one of the finest and most benevolent of faces; and Doolittle, who has grown very gray since he wandered from the true way. Here is Gratz Brown, of Missouri, with his fine face and fiery hair. Here is McDougall, with hoary head, a man of the finest ability and ripest culture, going down to a drunkard's grave. Here, too, is Yates, of Illinois, all his manhood marred by strong drink, and his colleague, Trumbull, spectacled, keen and eager. Here is Saulsbury, the semi-rebel, who two Sabbaths ago waited on Mrs Jeff. Davis to church, pacing up and down the Senate Chamber like a caged lion—a man one hundred years behind his time, and proud of it.

THE NEW BRITISH MINISTRY —The Scotsman—a paper proverbially well informed in political affairs—says The following are, we have reason to believe, the arrangements for the new or next Government, so far as yet made -

First Lord of the Treasury—Earl of Derby.
Chancellor of the Exchequer—Mr Disraeli.
Foreign Secretary—Gathorne Hardy.
Colonial Secretary—Lord Cranborne.
Secretary for India—Mr Adderley.
Minister at War—General Peel.
First Lord of the Admiralty—Sir John Parkington
Lord High Chancellor—Lord Chelmsford
Lord Lieutenant of Ireland—Lord Malmesbury.
Lord Chancellor of Ireland—Mr Whiteside
Under Secretary of War—Earl of Longford.
Attorney General—Sir H Cairns.
Solicitor General—Mr Boyd
Lord of Works—Lord John Manners.
Postmaster General—Lord Colchester.

The Duke of Richmond, it is understood, was offered and declined the Lord Lieutenancy of Ireland. Sir E L Bulwer Lytton is to be made a peer. Mr Walpole is not to be in office. Chief Baron Pollock will resign, and make way for Sir Fitzroy Kelly. In Scotland, it is expected that George Patton will be Lord Advocate, and E S Gordon, Solicitor General.

Gen Sweeney's Late Address to the Fenians.

St Albans Vt July 4, 1866

To the Members of the Fenian Brotherhood and to American Brothers:—In view of the present position of our organization I deem it my duty to address you. When arrested, I expected I would be immediately released, or, by the interference of the prominent officials of the Brotherhood steps would be taken to obtain bail. In both cases I have been disappointed, and a severe attack of sickness prostrated me so as to incapacitate me to address you before now. My communications have been stopped. Even my telegrams in cypher, which I am sure, gave no information to the captors. Brothers, in my next official document which I hope soon to address from head quarters you will see the necessity of organizing into military companies, and also that of choosing as your leaders the true and honest men who are among you for all the positions where military tact and experience are necessary, bearing in mind, from our recent experience, that circles to be efficient must have their companies armed and equipped, and determined to use them promptly when called on. Be not disheartened, my brothers. The late movements of our troops have proven to even our enemies the practicability of my plans. Were it not for the interference of the United States Government officials no power which England could bring to bear could impede the triumphant advance of our brave boys, the result of which would be that to day the green flag of our fathers would float from the dome of Canada's capitol, and what is now a disappointment or a deferred movement, would be a glorious success. England to-day, through her mercenary press, can well return thanks and applaud America for her faithful observance of the neutrality laws. Let the American officials, or those of them who have made themselves officious, send across the Atlantic their kind appreciation of this generous acknowledgment, but the great American people, I am sure, judging from the warm sympathy and support which we have received, will not either accept from England her congratulations nor concede to American officials the right to return England good for evil. To morrow, were I in a position to move again, to none would I entrust and on none would I depend more for the faithful and efficient protection of my plans than on the American born citizens on the frontiers, and in connection with the above, I now on behalf of myself and the Brotherhood return them all collectively and individually my sincere thanks for their manly and independent efforts in support of republicanism and the disenthralment of an enslaved people. Brothers, beware of the trickster, the politician and the charlatan. Our organization is an organization of progress. It is not the M. C.'s who will effect any good for Ireland; no, it is the soldier, the hardy laborer, the mechanic, and the advance of public opinion opposed to slavery and in favor of universal liberty. In all our relations with men who may differ with you in opinion on the subject at issue never forget that you are patriots and gentlemen. It is only in the absence of proof, reason and logic that the bigot and would be despot has to descend to personalities, criminations and vituperations. No gentleman will use these cowardly weapons which only make an impression on the ignorant, the weak, the useless and the selfish. The bearing of the soldier of the I R A should be lofty and independent; his race is inferior to none, his mission is as grand, as legitimate and as holy as was ever blessed by the God of Battles. Gather around you, my brothers, the really true men, it matters not their position if they are honest, all are equal in our organization. Let our fair co-laborers, the Sisterhood, to whom we are so much indebted, redouble their energies. In connection with every company or circle there should be a sanitary commission, with medical stores, &c. Over this department the fair daughters of Erin should preside. In conclusion, I exhort you to guard, cherish and protect our now really powerful organization. Never before did it assume the elevated position which it has at this moment. Skeptics, cowards and slanderers must now give way. It has been demonstrated that a determined few in proportion to our whole people purchased materials of war sufficient, and would put into the field an army which would crumble to atoms the boasted colossal power of England were it not for the paternal interference of Messrs Johnson and Seward. Officers of circles should immediately see that our present unavoidable disappointment does not cause an indifference among members. Prompt and accurate reports of the military status of circles should be immediately forwarded to the war department. Under the head of "remarks," as briefly as possible, a report as to the determination, number, willingness to move, and capacity so to do, should be embraced. Every member should consider himself the private custodian of an important and sacred secret, and as such protect it as he would his life. Public demonstrations and controversies, unless where unavoidable, should not be encouraged; in fact, if the members are actuated by a spirit of secrecy and of their ability to meet our common enemy, and determined so to do at the earliest opportunity, success is sure to follow, and the pall which now enshrouds our prostrate and weeping mother will be replaced by a halo of glory.

Fraternally yours, &c ,
T. W. SWEENEY, Sec'y of War, F. B.

MORE OF JOHNSON'S POLICY —A correspondent of the New York Tribune writes from Washington recently as follows

The President's warfare on Congress, taking the form of an attack on the influence of the Representatives, to be followed by concerted efforts to beat them in Convention for renomination, and, failing in that, to beat them at the polls by Copperhead votes and the influence of the newly appointed Johnson officials, has commenced in the Aleghany District of New York with significant spitefulness. Seven Postmasters—good Union men, recommended to their positions by the good and true Representative, Hamilton Ward—have been removed. Ward protested against this wrong to Assistant Postmaster General Randall—remonstrated against it to Thurlow Weed, who was then here. When Randall showed himself to be inexorable in his purpose politically, Ward struggled to save the offices from falling into the possession of the vulgar mercenaries of politics who had been selected to fill them, and requested that they be given to disabled soldiers. He entreated that the Angelica office be given to Charles, mutilated in battle, but qualified for its duties, that the Belmont office be given to Harrison Crandall, and that at Wellsville to Captain Moses Sterns, both scarred in the country's service; and named soldiers for all the other offices. This just and patriotic request was unjustly and unpatriotically refused by Randall with a supplementary insult to the party that is now burdened with feeding and clothing him, expressed in his angry declaration to Ward. "This matter has got to be fought out between Congress and the President." He also gave Ward notice that there was to be a general removal of all Postmasters who do not favor the President's policy."

Ward, as I have said, went to Thurlow Weed, to have the work of removing good Union men in Aleghany county arrested. His success with this politician was quite equal to that with Randall. After retiring from the interview he made a memorandum of the conversation between them while it was fresh in his mind. For the political enlightenment of the hundreds of thousands in the State of New York who fought and bled and gave their sons, their husbands, their brothers and of their money to the holy war against rebellion and slavery, I send you this remarkable declaration of war by Andy Johnson against the Unionists of the Empire State, made through the aged Adjutant General of the President's Chief of Staff, the Secretary of State.

JUNE 25 —I had learned that one Sherman, from Alleghany county (N Y), in company with Weed was in Washington to secure the removal of certain Postmasters in the districts I have the honor to represent (the Twenty seventh District, New York).

I saw Weed about 8½ A. M. at Willard's Hotel, and entered into conversation with him upon the subject, and stated to him that I came to see him about certain Postmasters in that district. He said promptly and frankly, "Oh, yes, I shall do all I can to get them removed."

I asked what reason there was for their removal. He said there was reason enough, that they were not friendly to the President's plan of reconstruction, but sustained the course of Congress. I said I did not suppose the policy would be to remove men who had supported Lincoln and Johnson in 1864, and were still good Union men, unless they abused or denounced the President personally, that I had got that understanding both from the President and the Postmaster General.

He said that he (Weed) was in favor of removing all Federal officers who did not support the President's policy, and putting Administration men in their places.

I said if this is so, why is it not general? He said that was merely accidental, that friends of his in Alleghany county, on whom he could rely, had called his attention to the matter and that he was in favor of the changes for the reasons I have given, and that as soon as it could be done he was in favor of making the changes universal. I asked, is it any hostility personal to me that prompts this selection? He said not. I then stated, that as the Union member of Congress from that district, I felt that I was entitled to be consulted with reference to the distribution of the patronage of the district. He replied that my course in Congress did not justify me in that claim, that I had favored a policy opposed to the views of the Administration that I would hold my seat in Congress a few months longer that it was the intention to secure the election of Administration men in the place of the present radical members of Congress.

I then said from what you say it appears to be your design, and that of the friends of the President generally, to make war upon Congress break up the Union party, and hand the Government over to the Copperheads. He said that he was in favor of restoring the Union, and that Congress by its course was preventing the desired restoration, and that Congress was as much disunionist now as the rebels were during the rebellion, and that Congress was breaking up the Union party, and not the President.

I said, while we differ as to the method of reconstruction, I have no doubt but it is the sincere desire of all true men to restore the country to peace and harmony, and when the issue of reconstruction was disposed of, I saw no difficulty in the Union party and Congress going along together. He said that there was no hope of that, that Congress had made war upon the President, and that the war must go on.

I said, if that is the determination, we might as well understand it.

Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or a poison absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of married life or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents and guardians friends attend to those who are afflicted with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Let them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing that they in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians in Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse or solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noises like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument, binding himself to a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
